(DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN)

DATES TO JUNE 9

Congressional

WASHINGTON June 9 — In the Senate Doolittle presented a memorial from Mrs [illegible] of South Carolina setting forth that she had expended $40 000 to support Union prisoners during the re bellion had always been devoted to the Union and had been reduced to poverty by raids on both sides. She asked remuneration for the money ex pended. Referred to Committee on Claims

The special order omnibus bill was taken up the question being on the amendment to admit Alabama. Agreed to—22 to 21

House. During the reading of the Journal the Chinese Embassy was announced escorted into the House and introduced to the Speaker who made an appropriate welcoming speech. Minister Burlingame responded after which they were in troduced to individual members of the House and several Senators who were present

Smith from the Committee on Reconstruction reported a bill to erect two additional States out of the Territory of the State of Texas. Ordered printed and recommitted

Paine, from the same committee, reported back a bill to provide for the inauguration of State of ficers in Arkansas North Carolina Georgia Ala bama and Louisiana and for the meeting of their Legislature. Passed by a party vote of 112 to 31

WASHINGTON, June 9 —Mr Butler, from the Committee on Appropriations reported back the Senate amendment to the House bill for the relief of the Navajo Indians, and moved that the bill and amendment be tabled. The motion prevailed

A resolution was adopted instructing the com mittee on Foreign Affairs to inquire whether the action of the Mexican Government in establish ing free ports at Matamoras and other points on the Rio Grande is not in violation of treaty stip ulations as well as a violation of the commercial rights of this country

Mr Griswold presented a petition signed by sixty officers of leading railroad companies in favor of extending the subsidy to the Union Pa cific Railroad Eastern Division

The House then went into the consideration of the tax bill

Mr Holeman offered an amendment looking to the taxation of United States Bonds, but it was ruled out of order

Section 87 was amended so as to read "retail dealers and every person whose business it is to sell goods wares or merchandise of foreign or domestic production not including wines liquors, petroleum tobacco, &c whose annual sales ex ceed $5 000 and do not exceed $25,000 be regarded as retail dealers and pay a license of twenty dol lars"

The paragraph in reference to wholesale is somewhat modified, but not in substance. The motion to reduce the tax from two dollars to one dollar for every thousand dollars excess of twenty thousand was remitted

Chase and the Presidency

NEW YORK June 9 —The Herald prints a pri vate letter from Judge Chase in which he says he was not a partisan on either side in the impeach ment case, and neither expects nor desires to be a candidate for office again. "It would however, gratify me exceedingly," says he, "if the Demo cratic party would take ground which would as sure the party against all attempts to subvert the principles of universal suffrage established in eight and to be established in all Southern Con stitutions. Then I think the future of the great cause for which I have labored so long would be secured and should not regret my absence from political labor"

New England News

NEW HAVEN, June 9 —The Democratic State Convention elected delegates to the National Con vention and instructed them to vote as an unit unless equally divided

PROVIDENCE June 9 —Wm S Sprague was to day, re-elected United States Senator without opposition

WATERFORD, June 9 —By the explosion of Lymburner's steam saw mill yesterday, four per sons were killed

Indian Lands

ST LOUIS, June 9 —The Democrat learns from responsible sources that the recent treaty with the Osage Indians by which eight million acres of land were ceded to the Leavenworth Law rence and Galveston railroad company for twenty five cents per acre, meets great disfavor. Other perfectly responsible parties had made far more favorable propositions, which were refused by the Commissioners

Miscellaneous.

NEW YORK, June 9 —J Ross Browne, Minis ter to China sailed to day for California

The steamship Nevada, hence for Vera Cruz, was wrecked off Cape Hatteras. All except one were saved. The vessel was valued at four hun dred thousand dollars and the cargo at as much more. Both were insured

BOSTON June 9 —A project is on foot for a complimentary dinner to Senator Fessenden, for the purpose of endorsing his integrity independ ence and purity as a statesman. Gov Bullock will preside. Ex Gov Washburne President Hill of Harvard College James Russell Lowell and other distinguished gentlemen will partici pate

A special dispatch says that the Florida Legis lature adopted the 13th and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States. The Leg islature will elect United States Senators on the 15th

Democratic Newspaper Literature.

The following brutal fulmination is from that sterling Democratic sheet, the La Crosse Dem ocrat. The editor refers to the Methodist General Conference then in session at Chicago

There is now in session in the city of Chicago a nondescript, black and tan, Rump Radical po litico religious mob known as the Quadrennial Conference of the M E Church

It is convened nominally in the interests of the Methodist denomination but really in the inter ests of the mongrel party and with an eye to the interests of Grant, who is the candidate of the Methodists. It will remain in session until after the Chicago Convention and will add the nasal whine to the chorus of damnable discords that will hail the nomination of the [illegible] butcher

It is engineered by the infamous Simpson, Methodist Bishop of Philadelphia, who, in collu sion with General Howard, the other reverend ruffian of the Freedman's Bureau, took possession of 1 200 churches belonging to the Methodist Church South, and turned them over to the nig gers and convict preachers of the North

There never was convened on this continent so fanatical ignorant obstreperous a mob of rene gade whites. The honest, earnest members of the Methodist denomination are entitled to the full measure of respect that should always be ac corded to sincere Christians, but the vagabond political and moral male harlots who defile the Methodist pulpits and who make night hideous with their infernal howlings are further beneath the contempt of white men, than a Yankee sing ing school is beneath an angel choir

Roost high, oh ye feathered beasts, for the chicken eaters are come up to the great city.

Guard well the back doors to your gin mills, oh ye dispensers of benzine for the throats that are enveloped in white chokers are often athirst.

Look well to your four footed beasts, ye that keep livery stables, for horse flesh hath ever a powerful attraction for the Methodist deacon

Look well to your wallets, oh ye who travel in the street cars, lest ye lose the lovely patches of ragged paper that have symbolized money ever since the time that these nice shepherds have fur nished inspiration for the political machine

Look well to your mustard cups and spoons of shoddy silver oh ye maidens who doth dispense the juice of the hop for the bible bangers do de light to labor with the nymphs who are profanely called beer jerkers, and the pockets of the breth ren are capacious

Mount a two barrel gun within range of your clothes line, oh ye that have much raiment, for the colporteurs have a weakness for square tailed shirts and embroidered underclothes

Place none but tried men on guard to night, ye who set up free lunches for your patrons, for the hymn squawkers do go for all things which are free

Guard well your watch tower oh ye publicans of high and low degree for in beating landlords a Methodist circuit rider can double discount the oldest inhabitant"

And oh ye unsuspecting Methodist brethren of Chicago hearken to our warning and go mighty slow on your intolerant brethren from the coun try for they will renague on you the first deal

They Don't Want a General

The Democrats say we want a statesman, not a General for President

History will demonstrate that so far from there being any incompatibility between the two char acters the best Generals are often the wisest of statesmen. It will demonstrate even more—that a man cannot be a great General without posses sing the qualities of a great statesman. Hanni bal was a great statesman so was Cæsar, Char lemange Napoleon and Washington. General Jackson will hardly be charged by the Democra cy with having been a poor statesman and he was a good General. They tried to elect McClel lan, who was a bad General, and a worse states man and we have no doubt if they could find an other who would accept a nomination at their hands they would vote for him en masse without ever once suggesting the objection which they urge against Gen Grant. In the case of the lat ter his reputation as a great General is establish ed for all time, and it is difficult to imagine from what they derive the idea that he does not pos sess the requisites of a statesman also. Certain ly he has shown by his conduct from the hour he first came into position before the people, that he fully comprehended the mighty questions which the war of rebellion settled and put forever at rest. True he has not made lofty, high sounding speeches on any subject but in this he resembles Washington who could not make a speech if he tried and yet was one of the first statesmen of the age in which he lived

Grant never could have reached the position which he holds to day in the estimation of this nation and the whole world if he had not pos sessed correct notions of public policy, and been fully imbued with the patriotic spirit of a true statesman. As such he is not to be mentioned on the same day with Johnson Buchanan or Frank lin Pierce. Of the latter it will be recollected his military exploits were quite as disastrous to his reputation as was his statesmanship and yet the Democracy now all at once clamorous for statesmen—thought him "chiefest among ten thousand and altogether lovely" It was to be expected that Grant would be hated by that party because he was a good general—a better one than Lee but it is somewhat singular that they should at the same time endeavor to depreciate his tal ents. The man who crushed out rebellion by blows which shook the continent, ought not to be a man of mean abilities. Is it possible that the chief who lead our loyal armies to battle and victory over the hosts of treason, is not capable of performing the duties which Mr Johnson has neglected to perform? At all events, it is highly probable the people will ask him to make the at tempt and sustain him in it with a united voice —Oakland Transcript

Says the Marysville (Cal) Appeal of June 2d

An election for Congressman, State Legislature and county officers took place yesterday in Oregon, and we look for the result with considerable inter est. What a Suggestion

[From the Sacramento Union.]

A telegram of the 27th of May says on the au thority of the New York Herald, the Democratic members of Congress have requested the National Committee of that party to invite [illegible] of the soldiers and sailors with the [illegible] of the Fourth of July Convention. This is the [illegible] piece of impudence imaginable. Who are the Democratic members of Congress who make this request? There is Fernando Wood, who as Mayor of New York in 1861, sought to send the [illegible] arms to kill these very soldiers and break up the Union they were fighting to save, Brooks, who called them hirelings, mercenaries and [illegible] Boyer of Pennsylvania, who d[illegible] the organizations to defeat enlistments; Woodward, who declared the war unconstitutional and the soldiers and Generals, of course, murderers; nine rebel sympathizers from Kentucky; three wor shipers of Vallandigham from Ohio, and a num ber more of the same sort with not exceeding half a dozen like Axtel, who think the war was right and service in our armies honorable. The [illegible] majority of them, with the great majority of the National Committee, would to-day, but for the unpopularity of it, give ten times more to [illegible] monument to Stonewall Jackson and [illegible] Johnson, than to McPherson, or Reynolds, or the gallant Lyon. We should like to see the loyal soldiers and sailors of the United States [illegible] they receive this Committee's invitation to [illegible] erate with the party they thrashed at Gettysburg, Mobile, New Orleans, Vicksburg and a [illegible] other fields, and which now [illegible] quest that they would [illegible] set of sneaking [illegible] the prize which the boldest and most valiant traitors in arms [illegible] not take from them. We await with much [illegible] the answer [illegible] from [illegible] General Terry, Admiral Porter, McDowell, Sick les Howard, Phil Sheridan, and Tecumseh Sher man. If we are not much mistaken this corres pondence would form as interesting an addition to the satiric literature of this country as Swift's Gulliver was to the age of Queen Anne. By all means let the loyal soldiers be invited to this Dem ocratic gathering, and let the public [illegible] what they have to say in reply.

Gains and Losses

The Chicago Tribune makes the following graphic comparison of gains and lo[illegible] by the respective parties in the [illegible]

The Republicans have carried [illegible] by 25,000 majority, el[illegible] three or four members of Congress, all the State officers and securing two United States Senators. The Democrats have offset this gain by electing McA[illegible] of a petty court.

The Republicans have swept the old D[illegible] State of South Carolina by 25,000 majority, electing six members of Congress and [illegible] two Senators. The Democrats [illegible] this loss by the election of Daniel O'Hara clerk of a petty court

The Republicans have carried the great State of Georgia, electing seven of the nine members of Congress and securing two Senators. The Democrats have elected Sheridan Alderman of the Fifth ward of Chicago.

The Republicans have gained a [illegible] victory in North Carolina, electing six of the [illegible] members of Congress, securing two Senators and winning the whole State ticket by 20,[illegible] The Democrats offset it by carrying the [illegible] in Third ward of Chicago, and electing [illegible] alderman

The Republicans have carried Arkansas, [illegible] ing three members of Congress, [illegible] two Sen ators and winning the whole State ticket; but against this loss the Democrats offset the [illegible] of Donnellan as [illegible] man of the [illegible]

DARWINIAN IDEAS.—Mr Darwin has published two more volumes on the "Variation of Plants and Animals under Domestication," to confirm his theory that the different forms of animal and vegetable life have been produced by natural law, and not by creative acts. The conclusion of Mr. Darwin may be reduced to four

1 All animals, [illegible] domestic animals, have a tendency to great variations of form; and artificial selection depends for its operation on this fact

2. Many forms of animals and plants, not in existence in nature, but derived [illegible] types, are [illegible] into existence [illegible]

3 These are produced by artificial [illegible] by a careful observation of individual variations, which are selected for breeding, and these are preserved till they are perpetuated as [illegible] characters.

4 Breeds, which are thus [illegible] by arti ficial selection, show differences of external form and of internal structure, which would warrant a naturalist ignorant of their origin, to call them distinct species, or sometimes even distinct gen era

Prof Agassiz is the leading opponent of Mr. Darwin's theory. He [illegible] that [illegible] im mutable, that man can originate breeds, but never species; and that breeds are fruitful in off spring but species, if [illegible] are [illegible] or have sterile offspring. He claims, [illegible] the whole range of observation in living [illegible] or in fossil history, no instance has been [illegible] of transmutation of species. Where [illegible] naturalists are at variance, who can [illegible] the controversy?

A PARADISE —A writer in Putnam's Monthly Magazine, thus sums up the happy lot of the Japanese

Take the Japanese as a whole, high and low, rich and poor, they are the best fed, best [illegible] best lodged, least overworked and [illegible] and happy people on the face of the earth

Food is abundant and cheap imaginary wants rare, and thus temptation to crime are few than with us, though the land is no Utopia.

There is no such thing as squalor to be seen in Japan. In the house of the very poorest, a Fifth avenue belle might sit upon the matted floor without soiling her dress. The streets are admi rably sewered all offal and garbage are removed for manure

"There is no bigotry. The people are wonder fully open minded" There is no hatred of Chris tianity as such only it is feared as an engine to cause political change"

As an answer to the question "Can the [illegible] take care of himself—will he work? The Nash ville Press and Times publishes a list of colored men in that city who have accumulated property ranging in the several sums from $2,000 to $40,- 000. The wealthiest of these "solid men" is the Rev Peter Lowery, twenty years ago a hackman, now the owner of fine farms and city lots, and agent of the Tennessee (colored) Labor Manual School. William Sumner pays taxes on $30,000 dollars worth of property. Fifteen years ago he was driving a dray about the streets of Nashville. Many of these worthy colored people bought their freedom and that of their wives and children be fore the war, and are now far above want.

Tennyson's "Lucretius" is the first poem worthy of his name and fame which he has given to the world since the appearance of "The Idyls of the King". It is marred by all the Tennyson ian carelessness of [illegible], but it swells out in passages into the great round magnificence of Grecian epic and displays occasionally a touch of sententiousness of Shakespeare. What for exam ple can be finer than this

I often grew

The lightning [illegible] itself sometimes. To-day, for instance a hurricane and thunder storm [illegible] ed Waukegan—thirty miles distant at hurri cane speed moving like the tide of commerce, toward Chicago. It reached Chicago but ere the first flash of the storm had been seen or the first peal heard an account of its effects in Waukegan had been received and put in type by the printers of the Post.—Chicago Post

Work for the Legislature

The Herald is beginning already to tell us what the Democratic Legislature is going to do this fall "Its first duty" this organ informs us, will be to oust the present State officers; Gov Woods is to be deposed and C. I Kelly installed in the office—if it takes the aid of every able bodied Democrat in Oregon to maintain him in the position This qualifying expression—able-bodied—is a happy one It lets Beriah out of the fray He is willing to sacrifice able-bodied Democrats in this revolutionary endeavor but being past the military age and infirm in health and character, he does not expect to be called on to take any active part himself If he is drafted he will doubtless resign

The present State officers are to be ousted because it is alleged that they were not legally elected This is the pretence but the real explanation of this suggestion is found in the revolutionary character of the Democratic party It is turbulent and lawless and where it has power it never sticks at the perpetration of any act of revolutionary violence. As it tried to destroy the nation some years ago and plunged the whole country into civil war in the endeavor, why should we suppose that it will not attempt to overturn the Constitution and government of Oregon at the risk of producing disorder here?

Let it be observed that the party whose principal organ suggests and urges this revolutionary action is the same party which denounces others for alleged usurpations How beautifully it becomes this party to make such accusations against Congress and to talk with tragic indignation about the Radical Jacobins!

The Democratic party of Oregon was driven from power because it sympathized with those who were traitorously attempting to overthrow the Constitution of the United States On coming into power again in one branch of the State government its very first idea is to usurp the other branches, and obtain supreme control by overthrowing the Constitution of the State

The "organ" tells us that the ratification of the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States is also to be rescinded. Ohio and New Jersey have tried that same thing and the effort was not a success Besides, we anticipate that long before this delectable Oregon Legislature will meet, a sufficient number of the Southern States will have ratified the amendment to make it a part of the National Constitution It takes only five; and that number is now just ready

While this Legislature has its hand in, would it not be well also for it to rescind the amendment abolishing slavery? There are, still further, many other things, which it would be strictly "Democratic" for this body to do Let it follow the Ohio precedent. Let it disfranchise all maimed soldiers who served in the national armies, and declare that all rebel soldiers are welcome to the ballot box Let it follow in another particular the Ohio precedent and the great example of Jack Cade, and disfranchise every body who ever went to school By adopting this course, a reliable "Democratic" majority might be maintained in Oregon, and the election of any more Abolition Governors utterly prevented. It is easy enough to foresee that the coming Legislature will have enough to do!

Plenty of Room.

We hear of renewed and increased inquiry in regard to Oregon by people elsewhere who are looking this way for permanent settlement. California is receiving large accessions to her population, and many who arrive there are making inquiries about Oregon Our climate, soil, prices of land, rates of wages small cost of living, and the educational and social advantages which Oregon offers, make this State as desirable as any to those who are seeking to establish permanent homes In deed we claim a great superiority in all these things over any other new part of the country, but we are conscious that this is a claim which is set up for almost every locality To test this matter, those in search of homes have only to come here and see Our lands are of [illegible] wild fertility, and we have more agricultural land than California the extremes of heat and cold are unknown in Oregon and though much has been said about our rainy winters, there are none who do not prefer them to the cold ones of many other States Oregon is never afflicted by drouth in summer, and the harvest season has never been when crops were not ample California has often suffered in this way but Oregon never The best of agricultural land may be had at low prices, and the railroads which are now building in the great Willamette Valley will soon afford the best facilities for transportation We have plenty of room for all who desire to come, and we are gratified to learn that in the general search for homes on the Pacific coast which is now commencing Oregon is not likely to be neglected

Says the Oakland, (Cal) Transcript We enjoyed the misery yesterday evening of seeing a letter written by Horace Greeley to Charley Stoddard. The chirography shocked one's nerves and made the [illegible] blood run cold The external superscription outrage on the art of penmanship read apparently, "Charge Todd Land Fresco Cobfarme"

We wish some "Democratic" savant would explain which is the "genuine Doctor Townsend" —the platform of the South Carolina Democracy which pronounces for negro suffrage or the platform of the Oregon Democracy which opposes the same and mumbles something about the "servile races?"

Andrew Johnson is having his private residence in Greeneville, Tennessee, repaired preparatory to his retirement to the state at the end of a few months He is building three additions to his domicil one of which is understood to be a still house.

If General Grant is such a drunkard as the Copperheads declare him to be they ought to support him For are they not supporting Andrew Johnson whom they have declared time without number to be a beastly sot?

The New York Tribune has a hard joke on Johnson

The World says that Mr Johnson may be deposed but he cannot be disgraced Ever since the celebrated Cleveland speech we have been precisely of that opinion

A Fine Country

The excellence of the country skirting along the line of the proposed Northern Pacific Railroad is gradually becoming known and acknowledged The difficulty attending the approach of Missouri has induced the people of Montana to make search for a good and available landing further down than Fort Benton The mouth of the Muscle Shell [illegible] [illegible] from all [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] and more — than from any other point on the river The Helena Herald in [illegible] that part of the Territory says

It is indeed true that very few of our citizens have ever seen that beautiful region of Montana lying east of the Belt Range and extending [illegible] through those resplendent valleys [illegible] [illegible] harvests and crowned with the garlands of a primeval Paradise stretching far out toward the Missouri The rich garnered fields of wealth which lie hidden in the recesses of unexplored regions the most accessible to navigation and by far the most beautiful and fertile of all our mountain valleys while they are the least cared for abounding in all the will giving that the great Northwest affords decked with the finest of mountain timber and made green by never failing mountain streams with a climate never very cold nor ever [illegible] rich and gushing in all its vast field of wealth selfish in nothing magnificent in all that gladdens the human heart or nurtures and gives strength to every product of the mountain and prairie we must concede that the verdant hills and smooth grassy plateaus that so gracefully border and adorn the Muscle Shell and its tributaries render that region one of the most interesting of all the mountains Through these fertile and luxuriant valleys the Northern Pacific Railroad must find its way, and the locomotive which has ever been the talisman of fast increasing wealth and enterprise will whirl on from the head of Missouri navigation round our hills over our pastoral fields and through our mountain gorges, conveying its human freight of every nationality and its merchandise from every clime

"The White Man's Party"

The counties of Guilford Forsyth Wilkes McDowell Davidson Cumberland Burke Washington and Wake in North Carolina registered nearly 8 000 white majority In those counties in the late election the majority for the new Constitution and the Republican candidates was 6 001 One fact like this is worth a thousand theories It annihilates the cry of negro domination It shows that the whites are heartily engaged in the work of reconstruction on the Congressional plan On the other hand while the Southern elections were in progress the telegraph furnished such dispatches as these

WASHINGTON, April 22 —At Stump Sound precinct in this county up to four o'clock yesterday out of forty six negro votes forty five were Conservative

Reliable information from one precinct in Columbus county gives Conservatives 0 3 Radicals 30 Twenty negroes voted with the Conservatives

From Georgia the following is a sample

COLUMBUS—Many negroes voted the Democratic ticket

At Marietta 180 negroes formed in line and voted the Democratic ticket.

Accounts from Southwestern Georgia where the negroes are largely in the ascendency, are highly favorable to the Democratic ticket

From South Carolina, this

CHARLESTON S C, April 21 —The election is progressing quietly Seven hundred and ninety eight votes were polled to day mostly by negroes and many for the Democratic ticket The Democrats anticipate a majority

It is the force of such facts as these which is suggesting to many minds the inquiry Which is the white man's party?

Treacherous Counsels

From the day when the first blow was struck by traitors against the Government the counsels of the Democracy have invariably been such that had they been acted upon would have brought inevitable disgrace and ruin upon the country In the first place they counseled concessions to the slave power which were in themselves not only humiliating but in the highest moral and political sense criminal They would have permitted that system to expand itself into free territories and States and were willing to see the horrors of its trans oceanic traffic re-enacted as in the days when kings and emperors were the patrons of pirates and the stealers of men

They advised the people to recognize the right of any State to nullify the laws of the Federal Government or to withdraw from the Union at pleasure When the war of the rebellion seemed inevitable they counseled us to non resistance and went so far as to even threaten open alliance with the enemies of the Republic When the war was fairly begun and the nation was nerving itself for the most terrible ordeal of blood and destruction ever encountered by any other people they advised their partisans to stand neutral and not raise a finger or say a word for their country's life They openly urged the recognition of Southern independence and the consequent disruption of the Union and predicted that terrible and infamous result When the war was over, and the rebellion crushed, they were quick to advise the pardoning of all rebels the immediate and unconditional re-admission of all the seceding States and the reduction of the freedmen to a condition no better than absolute slavery And at last we find them champions of repudiation advising to a course which, if pursued, would disgrace the nation at home and abroad We find them still counseling the oppression of negroes and encouraging the reviving spirit of rebellion and [illegible] ual assassination Is such a party worthy of the support and countenance of any man who loves his country as a patriot ought? Does it not deserve rather to be checked in its dangerous and wicked course and overthrown before any of its objects can be accomplished? Work for the Legislature.

The Herald is beginning already to tell us what the Democratic Legislature is going to do this fall. It's first duty this organ informs us, will be to oust the present State officers. Gov. Woods is to be deposed and Col Kelly [illegible] in the office, "if it takes the aid of every able-bodied Democrat in Oregon to maintain him in the position." This [illegible] expression, "able-bodied" is a happy one. It lets Beriah out of the fray. He is willing to sacrifice "able-bodied D[illegible]" in this revolutionary endeavor, but being past the military age and infirm in health and character, he does not expect to be called on to take any active part himself. If he is drafted he will doubtless resign.

The present State officers are to be ousted be[illegible] it is alleged that they were not legally elected. This is the pretence but the real explanation of this suggestion is found in the revolutionary character of the Democratic party. It is turbulent and lawless, and where it has power it never sticks at the perpetration of any act of revolutionary violence. As it tried to destroy the nation some years ago, and plunged the whole country into civil war in the [illegible], why should we suppose that it will not attempt to override the Constitution and government of Oregon, at the risk of producing disorder here?

Let it be [illegible] that the party whose [illegible] urges this revolution [illegible] is the same party which denounced [illegible] for alleged usurpations. How [illegible] this party to make [illegible] against Congress, and to talk with tragic indignation about the "Radical Jacobins!"

The Democratic party of Oregon was driven from power because it sympathized with those who were traitorously attempting to overthrow the Constitution of the United States. Coming into power again in one [illegible] of the State government, its very first [illegible] is to usurp the other branches, and obtain [illegible] control by overthrowing the Constitution of the State.

The [illegible] tells us that the ratification of the [illegible] amendment to the Constitution of the United States is also to be rescinded. Ohio and New Jersey have tried that same thing, and the effort was not a success. Be[illegible] anticipate that long before this delectable Oregon Legislature will meet, a sufficient number of the Southern States will have [illegible] the amendment to make it a part of the [illegible]. It takes only [illegible] and that number is now just ready. [illegible] Legislature has its hand in, [illegible] for it to re-[illegible] about abolishing slavery? There are, still further, many other things, which it [illegible] "Democratic" for this body to do. Let it follow the Ohio precedent. Let it disfranchise all maimed soldiers [illegible] in the national armies, and [illegible] that all rebel soldiers are welcome to the [illegible]. Let it follow in another particular the Ohio precedent and the great example of Jack Cade, and disfranchise everybody who ever went to school. By adopting this [illegible] "Democratic" majority [illegible] in Oregon, and the election of any [illegible] Abolition Governors utterly [illegible]. It is easy enough to foresee that the [illegible] Legislature will have enough to do [illegible]

Plenty of Room

We [illegible] of renewed and increased inquiry in regard to Oregon by people elsewhere, who are looking this way for permanent settlement. [illegible] is receiving large accessions to [illegible] and many who arrive there are [illegible] about Oregon. Our climate, [illegible] of land, rates of wages, [illegible], and the educational and [illegible] which Oregon offers, make [illegible] as any to those who are [illegible] homes. Indeed [illegible] a great superiority in all these [illegible] new part of the country; but we are conscious that this is a claim which is [illegible] up for almost every locality. To test [illegible] those in search of homes have only to [illegible] here and see. Our lands are of [illegible] fertility, and we have more agri[illegible] than California, the extremes of [illegible] and cold are unknown in Oregon; and though much has been said about our rainy [illegible], there are none who do not prefer [illegible] to the cold ones of many other States. O[illegible] is never afflicted by drouth in summer, and the harvest [illegible] has never been when crops were not ample. California has often [illegible] in this way, but Oregon never. The best of agricultural land may be had at low prices, and the railroads which are now building in the great Willamette Valley will soon afford the best facilities for transportation. We have plenty of room for all who desire to come, and we are gratified to learn, that in the general search for homes on the Pacific coast which is now commencing Oregon is not likely to be neglected.

Says the Oakland, (Cal.) Transcript: We enjoyed the misery yesterday evening of seeing a letter writing by Horace Greeley to Charley Studdard. The chirography shocked one's nerves and [illegible] blood run cold. The external [illegible] outrage on the art of penmanship read apparently, "Charge Todd, Land Fresco, Co[illegible]."

We wish some "Democratic" savant would explain which is the "genuine Doctor Townsend," —the platform of the South Carolina Democracy, which pronounces for negro suffrage, or the platform of the Oregon Democracy, which opposes the [illegible], and mumbles something about the "servile races?"

Andrew Johnson is having his private residence in Greeneville, Tennessee, repaired, preparatory to his [illegible] at the end of a few months. He is [illegible] three additions to his domicil, one of which is understood to be a still-house.

If General Grant is such a drunkard as the Copperheads declare him to be, they ought to support him. For are they not supporting Andrew Johnson, whom they have declared time without number to be a beastly sot?

The New York Tribune has a hard joke on Johnson.

The World says that Mr. Johnson "may be deposed, but he cannot be disgraced." Ever since the celebrated Cleveland speech we have been precisely of that opinion.

A Fine Country

The excellence of the country which lies along the line of the proposed North Pacific Railroad is gradually becoming known and acknowledged. The difficult navigation of the upper Missouri has induced the people of that region to make search for a good and available landing further down than Fort Benton. The mouth of the Muscle Shell river 185 miles from Helena [illegible] at which a large force of laborers is now operating, has been pitched upon as a proper location and a city laid out, and several large warehouses have already been built. From this point the settlements can be reached with less expense and more [illegible] than from any other point on the river. The Helena Herald in describing that part of the Territory says:

It is indeed true that very few of our citizens have ever seen that beautiful region of Montana lying east of the Belt Range, and extending down through those resplendent valleys [illegible] of earth's richest harvests, and crowned with the garlands of a primeval Paradise, stretching far out toward the Missouri. The rich garnered fields of wealth which lie hidden in those vast and unexplored regions, the most accessible to navigation, and by far the most beautiful and arable of all our mountain valleys, while they are yet the least cared for, abounding in all the wild game that the great Northwest affords, decked with the finest of mountain timber and made green by never failing mountain streams with a climate never very cold, nor ever hot and sultry, rich and gushing in all its vast field of wealth (selfish in nothing), magnificent in all that gladdens the human heart or nurtures and gives strength to every product of the mountain and prairie, we must concede that the verdant hills and smooth grassy plateaus that so gracefully border and adorn the Muscle Shell and its tributaries, render that region one of the most interesting in all the mountains. Through these fertile and luxuriant valleys the Northern Pacific Railroad must find its way; and the locomotive which has ever been the talisman of fast increasing wealth and enterprise will whirl on from the head of Missouri navigation round our hills, over our pastoral fields and through our mountain gorges, conveying its human freight of every nationality, and its merchandise from every clime.

"The White Man's Party"

The counties of Guilford, Forsythe, Wilkes, McDowell, Davidson, Cumberland, Burke, Washington and Wake, in North Carolina, registered nearly 8,000 white majority. In those counties in the late election, the majority for the new Constitution and the Republican candidates was 6,661. One fact like this is worth a thousand theories. It annihilates the cry of "negro domination." It shows that the whites are heartily engaged in the work of reconstruction on the Congressional plan. On the other hand, while the Southern elections were in progress, the telegraph furnished such dispatches as these:

WASHINGTON, April 22.—At Stump Sound precinct, in this county, up to four o clock yesterday, out of forty-six negro votes, forty five were Conservative.

Reliable information from one precinct in Columbus county, gives Conservatives 973, Radicals 30. Twenty negroes voted with the Conservatives.

COLUMBUS.—Many negroes voted the Democratic ticket.

At Marietta 180 negroes formed in line and voted the Democratic ticket.

Accounts from Southwestern Georgia, where the negroes are largely in the ascendancy, are highly favorable to the Democratic ticket.

From South Carolina, this:

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 21.—The election is progressing quietly. Seven hundred and ninety eight votes were polled to day, mostly by negroes and many for the Democratic ticket. The Democrats anticipate a majority.

It is the force of such facts as these which is suggesting to many minds the inquiry, "Which is the white man's party?"

STATE ITEMS.

Large quantities of wheat are still coming in at the mills up the valley.

The Jacksonville Sentinel learns that Messrs. Youdis, Saltmarsh & Co. are cleaning up fifteen hundred dollars per week from their claims at Sterling.

The machinery of the steamer Enterprise above Willamette Falls is to be taken out and put into other boats. Her boilers go into the Albany, and her engines into the Echo.

The quartz prospects of Southern Oregon are good. The Jacksonville papers contain accounts of very encouraging developments which are being made in several places thereabouts.

The editor of the Albany Democrat makes as much fuss over the Democratic victory as if he had had a considerable hand in it. He reminds the Unionist of a mangy little flea barking and cavorting at the end of a bear hunt.

B. J. Pengra has published a pamphlet at Washington setting forth the claims of the "Oregon Branch of the Pacific Railroad,"—i. e. the branch to intercept the Central Pacific in the State of Nevada. A Government subsidy of $13,000,000 is asked for to aid the road. An extended argument is presented to show its practicability and the advantage it would confer both on the Pacific coast and the whole country. The indications are that none of the railroad projectors now before Congress will succeed in inducing that body to grant the subsidies asked for.

Treacherous Counsels

From the day when the first blow was struck by traitors against the Government, the counsels of the Democracy have invariably been such that had they been acted upon, would have brought inevitable disgrace and ruin upon the country. In the first place they counseled concessions to the slave power, which were in themselves not only humiliating, but in the highest moral and political sense criminal. They would have permitted that system to expand itself into free territories and States, and were willing to see the horrors of its trans oceanic traffic re-enacted, as in the days when kings and emperors were the patrons of pirates and the stealers of men.

They advised the people to recognize the right of any State to nullify the laws of the Federal Government, or to withdraw from the Union at pleasure. When the war of the rebellion seemed inevitable, they counseled us to non resistance and went so far as to even threaten open alliance with the enemies of the Republic. When the war was fairly begun, and the nation was nerving itself for the most terrible ordeal of blood and destruction ever encountered by any other people they advised their partisans to stand neutral and not raise a finger or say a word for their country's life. They openly urged the recognition of Southern independence, and the consequent disruption of the Union, and predicted that terrible and infamous result. When the war was over, and the rebellion crushed, they were quick to advise the pardoning of all rebels, the immediate and unconditional re-admission of all the seceding States and the reduction of the freedmen to a condition no better than absolute slavery. And at last we find them champions of repudiation, advising to a course, which, if pursued, would disgrace the nation at home and abroad. We find them still counseling the oppression of negroes and encouraging the reviving spirit of rebellion and individual assassination. Is such a party worthy of the support and countenance of any man who loves his country as a patriot ought? Does it not deserve rather to be checked in its dangerous and wicked course, and overthrown before any of its objects can be accomplished? Every instinct of patriotism and sense of moral and political rectitude must impel a rational man to answer in the affirmative.—Oakland News.

One Crandall, a resident of Washington, has invented a gold washing machine, which will, he says, wash sixteen hundred and twenty pans a minute, making $16 20 during that time, or nine hundred and seventy two thousand dollars in ten hours! Eastern gentlemen are great in the invention of gold washing machines. Perhaps it would be advisable for them first to try a few years in them. They might get a few new ideas on the subject.

It is only in the United States that ignorance is so dense as to permit the existence of persons who want the present amount of paper money to be continued or increased. Elsewhere such persons are sent to school. In the United States they are sent to Congress.—N. Y. World.

ASSASSINATION AND REPUDIATION.—Brick Pomeroy has his imitators. The editor of the Sign of the Times, published at Warsaw (Kentucky,) that abode of conservatism and loyalty, flings out his banner in the most approved Pomeroy style, thus:

"Two hundred thousand dollars to erect a monument to Abraham Lincoln. Great God! Can it be possible? Is there a white freeman so low, so degraded, so deep in infamy as to aid or assist in erecting a monument to that beast of iniquity, that father of Jacobins, of smutty stories, a curse, a blot on the pages of humanity, a political pimp, destroyer of civil liberty, head center of a hot bed of thieves, knaves, cowards, plunderers, murderers, spoon thieves, such a crew as the father of demons would be ashamed to associate with? A monument to Abe Lincoln, the defunct sent to his father the devil, on a Good Friday night from a play house by that lover of liberty, the great American Brutus, J. Wilkes Booth, whose name will go down to future generations as the American Liberator, as the man who had the daring courage to destroy the first American tyrant, to rid this unhappy country of a monster. We can exclaim, 'Well done, thou good and faithful son of freedom!'"

To boggle at repudiation after having approved assassination would be straining at a gnat after swallowing a sawmill, so this virtuous Democrat, on the former topic discourses thus:

"Repudiate all and everything connected with this damnable debt, made to enslave white men. Free-born white men, awake to your interest! Strike for liberty or death! Strike for equal rights, equal representation and death to tyrants! No negro equality! No military despotism! No rump hells! No negro bureaus! Vote for no bondholder, no greenbacker! Vote for a square out-and-out repudiation of all thieving debts made to destroy what was once the best Government on earth. And if voting will not do, then fight! and damned be he who is for enslaving white men! Fight and give them a lesson of their own teaching to the South by that vandal Sherman! Americans, as God liveth, there is but one hope for you, and that star will lead you as did the star in the East lead the wise men to their Saviour of Bethlehem, of old."

The approximate circulation of some of the New York papers is as follows: Weekly Tribune 190,000, Agriculturist 150,000, Harper's Weekly, 95,000, Independent, 75,000, Frank Leslie's, 40,000, Daily Tribune, 40,000, Daily Herald 75,000, Daily World, 35,000, Scientific American [illegible],000, Christian Advocate and Observer, about 25,000 each.

A Chicago girl of sweet nineteen now sports her fifth husband. His four predecessors enjoyed married life from six months to a year.

THE BEST CURE FOR RHEUMATISM is to wear good Undershirts, good Cassimere Suits and should it be warm, change your heavy clothes for such as suit the weather. Follow that prescription, and you will never suffer with rheumatism, but be certain to buy your clothes of KOHN & FISHEL, for theirs are known to cure either cold or heat, and to suit both rich and poor.

"With Four Metallic Qualifications, a man may be pretty sure of earthly success. These are Gold in his pocket, Silver in his tongue, Brass in his face, and Iron in his heart."

WASHINGTON GUARD'S PICNIC.—The long looked for and often postponed day for the Washington Guard's picnic, came and went yesterday, and upon the whole was one of the happiest days of the season for those who participated in its festivities. The morning dawned cloudy and dark and many an anxious heart sank at the prospect of having another picnic day spoiled for the eternal Oregon mist; but as the time wore on toward the hour of starting, the day brightened and the indications of a fair day became more positive, and finally before the boats blew their whistles the sun came out beautiful and warm. Long before nine o'clock, the people carrying great baskets of refreshments, began to pour along the streets and toward the dock from which the steamers Julia and Webfoot were to start. From nine till ten there seemed to be almost a constant procession of people going on board. At ten o'clock the Washington Guard, led by the Mechanics' Band, marched on board the steamers, tooted for the last time, the inevitable "last man" was left on the dock to bewail the one moment's delay by which he missed the trip, and the steamers, lashed together, started gaily down the Willamette with flags and streamers flying, and with as happy a living freight as often gets together upon an excursion. The day on the river, with a fresh north breeze, was pleasant and invigorating and the passengers, notwithstanding the crowded condition of the saloons, seemed to drink in happiness with every inspiration of the fresh pure morning air. The landing at Moore's farm on Sauvie's Island was reached at 12 o'clock and the excursionists immediately went ashore and followed the Guard to the grounds prepared in a beautiful grove, about an eighth of a mile away. Here, everybody at once betook themselves to lunch, with appetites as sharp as a long morning's fast usually creates. Lunch being over, the dancers were summoned by the assembly call, to the dancing floor, an oblong structure large enough to accommodate about twelve quadrille sets, and covered as an arbor with cedar and fresh maple boughs. The highest pleasure of the day then began and continued unabated till five o'clock. Those who did not care for dancing, spent the time pleasantly in social chat or walks about the grounds. At five the party broke up and returned to the boats. The trip up occupied about two hours with one landing at [illegible], the boats reaching Portland at a few minutes before eight. During the whole excursion, we did not hear an expression from a single person, but one of gratification and enjoyment. The officers and men of the Guard certainly deserve especial credit for their admirable management of everything connected with the picnic. Everything seemed to have been arranged exactly right, and the result was that everybody returned home having enjoyed a day of unalloyed pleasure. Long live the Washington Guard, say we, and so say all, and many joyous returns of their annual festival day.

WAS NOT HORSEWHIPPED.—A difficulty between two of our business men on Front street, culminated yesterday morning by one of the parties appearing in the Recorder's Court and pleading guilty to a charge preferred by the other of "disorderly conduct." The cause of the difficulty was about this: the gentlemen are rivals in trade or rather do not agree upon the manner of doing business and a quarrel ensued. A horse whipping was promised by one to the other at 9 o'clock yesterday morning precisely. At the appointed hour the to-be whipped merchant promptly appeared to receive the threshing, but his adversary was physically competent to give it. But the courage of the antagonist failed him and he postponed indefinitely the whipping which the hero sought, whereat anger accumulated in the mind of the disappointed one and he roundly charged the gentleman with cowardice and being a poltroon, &c. For words spoken in debate he was "questioned" by Recorder Hoffman and a fine imposed, which was, of course, immediately paid.

[illegible] CITY NOMINATIONS.—Conventions of the Democrats of each of the three wards of the city, were held last evening for the purpose of nominating Councilmen in the place of Messrs. McCraken, Rosenheim and Mulkey, whose terms expire. In the first ward, Wm. Cree was nominated for the Council, in the second, A. Rosenheim (the present member) and in the third ward, Mr. John B. Price. Delegates were also chosen to attend a Convention to be held on Thursday evening for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Mayor. In the first ward, the following gentlemen were chosen:—A. J. Petty, Wm. Cree, W. P. Burke, Wm. Sherlock, P. [illegible], Joseph Tucker, William Wallace and Jos. [illegible]. In the second ward, the following gentlemen were chosen: Wm. Beck, John Catlin, William W. [illegible], M. Mulligan, S. Norris, Chas. Fechheimer, [illegible] Holmes and M. Seller.

[illegible] COURT—UPTON JUDGE.—The following compiled the proceedings had in this court yesterday.

[illegible] Martin was admitted a citizen of the United [illegible]

[illegible] Martin & Co vs. F. A. Clark; order of confirmation of [illegible] sale of lots 4 and 5 in Block 104 in East Portland. [illegible] B. Capies, Attorneys for plaintiffs.

[illegible] Jury [illegible] indictments against John [illegible] charged with the crime of larceny of $50.

[illegible] Hannah, et al., vs. Ann H. Perry; action to [illegible] of lots 3 in Block 7 city of Portland, [illegible] decided. Waite and Gibbs for plaintiff. Mitchell & Smith, and Hill & Mulkey, for defendant.

[illegible] vs. Richard [illegible] action on promissory note; judgment against defendant for $561 21. [illegible] Attorney for plaintiff.

DEATH OF AN OLD OREGONIAN.—John Monroe, well known as one of the old residents of Oregon, died a few weeks since at Oro Dell, in Union county. He was on his way home (Yamhill county) from Idaho, when the "fell destroyer" overtook and cut him off. It was not wholly unexpected, as Mr Monroe's health has been in a very precarious condition for two or three years last past. He was conscious of his approaching end and bade his brother [illegible] while yet standing upon his feet, and only expressed regret that he could not die at home in the midst of his family. The remains of deceased were carried [illegible] to Yamhill county, where he was buried by the [illegible] with the imposing ceremonies of the fraternity.

[illegible].—There was no business transacted by the [illegible] Council last evening for the want of a quorum, [illegible] late. The attendance grows smaller and [illegible] each meeting. His Honor, Mayor Chapman, [illegible] Halleck, the Clerk and the officer in [illegible] constituted the number present of the organ. Two other members came and went away again [illegible] the hour of business arrived, apparently afraid that there would be a quorum. What's the matter? The [illegible] had grave questions on which members dare not [illegible] Is anybody to be humbugged by [illegible] on this railroad question?

[illegible].—The panel of trial jurors having been [illegible] very small number in consequence of sickness, exemption, &c., it was necessary that [illegible] should be called to complete the required number. In response to a venire the Sheriff reported the following named gentlemen to fill up [illegible]: Charles Schramm, R. J. Robinson, [illegible], Isaac B. Smith, N. B. Gilliam, F. Har[illegible], John Dolan, D. Halpruner, J. M. [illegible] Quivey, John G. Lisle and H. C. Hill.

[illegible].—Dr. C. H. Blach who as a physician and [illegible] has long enjoyed in an eminent degree, the [illegible] and esteem of our citizens, will leave us by the steamer this week, to reside hereafter at San Francisco. He leaves a good practice here, being induced to the change of location by the offer of a highly advantageous [illegible] connection. The regrets and good [illegible] of his large circle of acquaintances will go with him.

[illegible] BY THE NEXT STEAMER.—Dr. Charles Blach, who [illegible] years has been located as a physician and [illegible] in our midst, will take his departure for San Francisco on Saturday evening. The Doctor will locate in San Francisco, where he has already formed a valuable [illegible] with a practicing physician. It is hoped [illegible] the Doctor will do well in his new location, and that his [illegible] will be as numerous there as they are here.

WAS NOT LAUNCHED.—Captain Baughman's new steam[er] [illegible] constructed at Canemah for the purpose of [illegible] the Willamette river above the falls was not [illegible] week, as was stated by the Enterprise, the [illegible] having failed, but to-day it is expected that [illegible] attend the effort to slide the steamer into [illegible]

[illegible] FOR REPAIRS.—On Saturday the steamer [illegible] will discontinue her trips to Oregon City, and be [illegible] for repairs. In a week's time she will be [illegible] renovated and in a condition to resume her place on the line. The steamer Alert will also be hauled off for [illegible] as soon as the Senator is again ready for [illegible]

THE [illegible] FREIGHT.—The steamship John L. Stephens [illegible] arrived at our port on Tuesday, brought a cargo of seven hundred and fifteen tons of merchandise. This is certainly a large cargo for a steamship at this [illegible] of the year, when trade is not near so brisk as in the fall or spring.

[illegible].—This sailing vessel arrived late [illegible] night from San Juan Island, having made a very [illegible] trip. She came loaded principally with limerock [illegible] Iron Works, and yesterday the Senator took her in tow en route for Oswego, where she will discharge her cargo.

[illegible], THE LECTURER.—Our readers will remember Mrs. C. M. Stowe, the (what is called) trance lecturer. We are informed that she will appear before a Portland [illegible] in a series of lectures, commencing on [illegible]. The Oro Fino Hall has been engaged for [illegible]

[illegible]'s SALE.—The attention of the reader is [illegible] to the advertisement of A. B. Richardson in [illegible] column. Several billiard tables are to be sold at [illegible], which to those desiring to purchase would do well to examine.

[illegible] FOR SAIL.—The steamship John L. Stephens [illegible] this port for San Francisco on Saturday evening, [illegible]. She will have a reasonable cargo considering [illegible] amount of produce on hand for shipment.

[illegible].—Yesterday was filed with the County Clerk the [illegible] bonds of M. Patrick Bull, who was [illegible] Justice of the Peace at the last election for Washington precinct.

CORRECTION.—The M. E. Sunday School festival at East Portland will take place Wednesday evening, the 17th inst., instead of as erroneously stated yesterday morning.

HATS FOR WARM WEATHER.—The Jerome Park, the Expert and the Yeddo Hats are the coolest head-coverings for this [illegible] and can be procured at Meussdorffer's.

Having used the "GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE" for many years, I take great pleasure in recommending it to the public, as I believe it superior to all others that have come under my notice. MRS. MATTHEW CROOKS.

A Plucky Editor.

The editor of the Louisville Volksblatt (German) says in one of his last issues: Yesterday morning we found the following advertisement pasted to the window of our office:

K K K K

In hoc signo [illegible] Brothers of the terrible work! [illegible] day [illegible]!

"Perryville draped in shroud! [illegible] there, Cleburne's sepulchre, [illegible] ghastly moon, hour of vengeance. Shall [illegible] of Morgan appear. the Great Grand Cyclops commands! [illegible] horrible graves! The [illegible] brothers of the terrible work [illegible] The wind moaneth over a new made grave! The halter. Murderers beware! [illegible] you have sworn to it! Remember!

G. G. [illegible] K. K. Z. A. B.

By order of the Great Grand Giant.

This nonsense seems to be intended to frighten the Union people of this town and especially us, but we must say that we are neither astonished at nor cowed by the ridiculous threats, and inasmuch as we rather guess that the corps of vengeance intend to pay us a friendly visit at night time it may interest them to learn that we leave our office every night between 1 and 2 o'clock, and walk through Third street to Jefferson, thence on the north side to Second, and then on the south side of Jefferson street to our house. Now if really a "newly dug grave" or a "human skull" is wanting for the salvation of the Confederacy, we herewith respectfully invite the cut throats to give us the honor of their introduction at the time and places named. It shall not be our fault if the bill shall neither cover a skull nor a skeleton, but we will not be responsible if the bloody death should not be to the taste of the highwaymen. We will stick faithfully to our programme in spite of threats and evil prophecies and struggle against injustice, stupidity and meanness in any form or shape whatsoever. As in the past we were a faithful though far advanced and exposed sentinel of freedom and truth in spite of storms and darkness, so will we in future defend the principles of true liberty and the eternal rights of man. Neither an assassin nor a malicious tartuffe will be able to drive us from our convictions or from our duty.

THE LAST SOLDIER OF THE REVOLUTION.—In June last you published an account which I wrote of an interview with John Gray the last soldier of the Revolution. The New York papers refused to publish any account of Mr. Gray, because they claimed that Mr. Downing, of their State, was the last soldier of the Revolution. That question is settled by the final arbiter of all human disputation, for John Gray and Mr. Downing are both dead. Mr. Downing died in the winter. John Gray died afterward, on March 29, 1868. And there now remains no name on the roll. The pensioners are all dead. Let there be no more dispute. It is settled. John Gray, of Ohio, was the last man of the Revolution beyond any doubt. And there the matter forever rests. All statements to the contrary are fabrications. This statement is made from the records of the Government, and sets the vexed question forever at rest. I have now in press a history of John Gray, in which I shall furnish the country such evidence from the records of the Government as will put the matter beyond dispute. Ohio has this new honor, that Washington's last soldier died within our patriotic Commonwealth.—Cor. Cin. Com.

GRANT'S ECONOMY.—The Springfield Republican says:

All signs will fail if there is not a sharp and sudden shortening up of expenses in every department of the Government after General Grant becomes President. We venture to predict that economy will become the fashion then, as it has not been for the last few years. The General signalized his short occupation of the War Office by a vigorous cutting down of expenses and stopping of leaks which was refreshing; and in his recent correspondence with General Hancock in relation to the removal of New Orleans officials, he takes occasion to tell that prudent officer—for all the world in the tone a prudent father might adopt toward a son at school who is disposed to be a little too free of his money—"dispatches of such length as yours, should be sent by mail when there is not a greater necessity for a prompt reply than seems to exist in this case." "That's the talk." We like that.

Wm. R. Meadows, the black member of the Louisiana Convention who wanted a resolution passed to expel Jeff Davis from New Orleans when he was there for a few days, was murdered in the Parish of Claiborne a week ago. He was shot by some one unknown.

A CARD.
WHEN THE POPULATION OF SAN FRANCISCO increases so rapidly, how is it the number of deaths decreases? Simply because that excellent Tonic, Lacour's Sarsaparphere Bitters have been introduced. Like the lighthouse to the mariner they are the guide to those who use them to outride the breakers of disease in the journey of life.
To them was awarded the FIRST PREMIUM at the late State Fair. The committee highly and especially recommend them for their medicinal qualities.
Their Emblem is a "Lighthouse."
Their Device "Pro Bono Publico."

G. VENARD.
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 647 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee ought to in this, to justify the good name acquired by his production, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers. The very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forwarned and placed on their guard against this practice.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water, Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.
NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element, no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.
The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.
Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.
As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.
Last but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

Polly's Old Sweetheart

No one saying any more.

"Well, to tell you the truth, there's not money enough left. Of course if he had told me so before his death I should have looked after the place, and made myself a farmer instead, as well as in work. But Freddy thought I should be able to play the part of [illegible] man, go fishing, and go hunting four days a week in the season. Now he's gone there's not enough left to work the farm properly, let alone keeping two or three fine skins to eat their heads off. Besides, I can't stand being patronized. Met young Sir William yesterday. 'Mr White,' [illegible] 'I [illegible] be Sam [illegible] about the state of affairs; if it will be of any service to you I'll take the grey mare off your hands at sixty.' 'Thank you, Sir William Monk,' said I, 'I'm much obliged, but I've refused eighty for her once or twice.' 'Well, well, if you like to send anything from the farm up to the house, they shall take it at market rates. It may help you a bit, you know, Mr White.' 'Thank you, Sir William Monk,' said I, not very gratefully, I'm afraid. He meant well, I don't doubt, but confound it, I can't stand being patronized by a man I was hand-and-glove with; so I must go and see whether the sun shines any brighter on the other side of the world."

"You might, you know, Sam, put th[illegible] on for a year or two."

"That's true enough, but I can't [illegible] manure carts here with all the people looking on. No, I shall go—I know a little about cattle."

"Almost too much, Sam."

"Don't laugh at me, Nunky; on my life she was all right when you had her."

"Yes, and went dead lame two days afterward. Oh, Sam! you should have spared me."

"So I would have done only you insisted on having her."

"Well, perhaps I did, but you certainly got her into very fine form when she came, and I wouldn't take twice the money for her now."

"Well, you see I have a prospect, and I am off next week."

"What will Polly say?"

"Ah! poor little Polly! Here she is."

"Polly, Sam's going to Au[illegible] next week. He won't be able to marry you before he goes."

"I should [illegible] before he goes. I shall be only eleven next birthday, and mamma [illegible] to be married till they are [illegible]teen or nineteen, or more, so I'll wait till he [illegible], Polly?"

"Then I won't marry any one at all."

"Never?"

"No, never. You said I was to be your little wife when [illegible] flowers and sewed the buttons on [illegible]. You took the little gold medal [illegible] whole in it, [illegible] your watch chain to [illegible] me. So it's all settled, and I shan't marry any one else. You must come and fetch me when I am old enough."

"Oh, it will be of no use, you'll be married to Frank Monk, and be a lady then."

"What! that stupid boy? I hate him! Last time he was here he pushed in the eyes of my baby doll, and melted her poor nose against the kitchen bars. No, I will never marry a cruel boy like that. He might poke my eyes in with his dirty fingers."

"Well, well, Polly, I'll come back, if you'll wait for me, then."

"Of course I will. When are you going?"

"Next week. I'll bring you a keepsake before I go."

"I don't want anything, Sam, except—"

"Well, except?"

"I was going to say—if I might have Gip, only to take care of him for you, you know."

"Have him?—I shall only be too glad to find such a little mistress for him; I'll bring him down next time I come. Good by, Polly. Of course as you are my little wife, I must kiss you."

"Of course you must, Sam."

Gip was duly brought down, and after long leave-taking, Sam was gone.

When Polly had dried her eyes she said:

"M[illegible], what's that ring on your finger?—not the wedding one—the other?"

"That's a keeper."

"No, not that, the one with an emerald in it?"

"That's what papa gave me when I was engaged to him."

"What for?"

"I don't know; because it's customary to, I suppose."

"Don't you think Sam ought to have given me one, mamma—so as to show everybody that I am engaged?"

"Bless the child! He's nearly old enough to be your father. Run along and finish your sewing."

"Never mind, mamma, I've got the little gold medal with a hole in it. I can show them that, can't I?"

* * * *

"Mr. Ha[illegible]'s been again to-day. That's the fourth time this week. What on earth does he want here?"

"To tell you the truth I think he wants Polly."

"Oh, [illegible]! Our little Polly, too."

"Now John! 'Little Polly!' She's a very well grown girl, and was twenty two yesterday."

"T[illegible]! How time flies! It seems but a little while since Sam White went away, and yet it [illegible] be twelve y[illegible]."

"We ought to have a letter this mail; it is nearly [illegible] since the [illegible], John. I wish that he had not write at all; that girl will never [illegible] through that nonsense. She'll wait and wait, and then he'll bring a wife home."

"There's no hurry. Bless my heart, wife! Why you were seven-and-twenty when I married you."

"It was your fault. I was quite ready and [illegible] years before, if you'd only spoke up like a man."

"I tell you what, wife, it's a serious thing this proposing."

"Well, I hope the result has proved as pleasant as the prospect was serious."

Why any spectator, had there been one, should have seen Mrs Hazeel sitting on her husband's knee, with her arm around his neck and [illegible] in her eyes, I don't know, but so it was.

"But about Mr Halstead, John?"

"Well, my dear, if he speaks to me—as, I suppose, being a curate, he will—I shall give him leave to speak to her. I need not ask that you would like to have her daughter married to a parson, though I'm sure I don't know why."

"They're very nice people, John; that's why: much better than stupid farmers."

"Oh! why didn't you marry a curate then—you had two chances?"

"Because—because—I preferred a stupid pipe-smoking farmer like a foo—like a sensible woman, John, dear."

"All right, old lady, I'll give my consent."

In due time consent was asked and given, and Polly refused the curate tenderly and kindly; offering him sisterly affection, which was not exactly what he wanted. And he laid his complaint before her father.

"She says she's engaged, sir, and showed me a medal."

And thereupon explanations were given, and the curate went home worse than ever; so bad, indeed, that in three months time, being of good family, he was obliged to be consoled by one of the seven girls at the vicarage; and as nobody said anything about his little affair at the farm, Polly attended in a sisterly way as a bridesmaid, as it would not do, you know, to have only sisters, though there are six of them.

Another year went by, and Mrs Hazeel had her way; there was no letter from Sam.

Farmers and doctors, and another curate, had laid seige to the fortress of Polly's heart, and been beaten off, and compelled to retreat in despair.

Polly was bright and lively as [illegible] her abundant hair in the same ravishing [illegible] as ever, but she had no love for any one.

Old "Gip," [illegible] and a little [illegible] used to trot about the place after her or be carried in her arms, but as for grief or care Polly seemed to know them not.

At last her winter came.

"Who do you think has come back, Polly?"

"Sam?"

"Yes—and his wife."

"No, father, no, don't say it. He would not—could not after all these years."

"Didn't I tell you so, Polly. I knew he would; they always do bring back wives."

"Are you sure, father?"

"No, but old [illegible] told me he saw them in the town. Sam, who was grown brown and [illegible], and [illegible] a [illegible] woman, very young, with him."

[illegible] went to bed with a dreadful heartache after all these years.

Next morning they had hardly [illegible] breakfast when a [illegible] was driven up to the [illegible]; Sam himself and a lady was in it.

[illegible] ran to the door with her father to welcome him home.

"Put your foot on the step, Nina."

"Yes, uncle," said Nina, with a slightly foreign accent.

Polly no sooner heard the words than she ran away without a word and went up stairs and had a good cry, and then came down all blushing and happy to see Sam.

"What! This Polly? My little Polly? This fine tall [illegible] my little Polly? I [illegible] it. Oh Polly, how you have grown! I suppose he won't mind my having a kiss after all these years, whoever he is;" and then he kissed trembling Polly on the cheek once, and then talked to her father.

He had forgotten all—this stout [illegible] man, who was as brown as a gipsy and looked as old as her father! Was it for this she had waited? This rough-looking, loud-talking, smoking, [illegible] man—this was what she had waited thirteen years for!

And this—his welcome!

And then Polly was obliged to think of her little guest.

Who was Nina?

Well, Nina was Nina.

Well, then she was with her father and mother, a child then of of three years old, on board the ship going out, and took a fancy to Sam, and Sam took a fancy to her, and when the ship was wrecked off Cape Patt[illegible] he had managed to swim to shore with her. The father and mother were both drowned, and the child thus saved became his, and he took care of it, and this was Nina, his little niece, or daughter, and nurse and everything.

Old Mr Hazell insisted on their staying until they could move to the old place bought by Sam, and so they used to idle away time, those three drones, all day long.

Nina, as became her Italian nature, could do nothing but gather flowers and sing and dress herself; and Sam said he had worked so hard on land, he wanted a land holiday as well as a sea one; and then Nina wanted taking care of, and Polly went with them. After a little Sam got cross, and ate nothing, and took long walks and long rides, and drank vinegar, and talked in a low tone of voice, and stammered and blushed, and then left off kissing Polly at night, and then left off kissing Polly at all; and then one day Polly found herself crying in his arms, with her tears being kissed away, before she well knew how she had come there; and after that Sam talked loud, and smoked, and left off drinking vinegar, and behaved again like a rational being; so much so that one day he was allowed to take Polly to church and have an interview with the minister, after which they wrote their names in a book, and the bells rang as if no names had ever been written in the book before.

It happened some weeks after this as Polly and Sam were sitting on the bench that Polly said:

"Sam, dear, I want to ask you one thing."

"Well, Polly?"

"When did you first think—you know—after you come home?"

"Well, do you remember one day Nina and I were sitting down on the garden seat, and and you came to fetch us into tea, with old Gip following you, and Nina was making me up a bunch of flowers?"

"Yes, Sam, I remember."

"Well, dear, I asked you for a flower."

"Yes, I remember."

"And you plucked a rose with a little leaf and—"

"Put it in your coat. Was it then?"

"Yes, Polly, it was—when you came so close to me that I could almost hear your heart beating. I made up my mind then, Polly, that I was not too old, and that I might be happy again."

"And are you happy, Sam, dear?"

I don't think Polly heard Sam's answer very clearly, but she seemed quite to understand that he was.

[illegible] parents [illegible] any of these [illegible] destroying [illegible] Send them [illegible] a physician who has made private [illegible] and who secures [illegible] cases [illegible] the most [illegible] skill [illegible] all diseases [illegible] European [illegible] fail [illegible] the [illegible] of those [illegible].

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions [illegible] of abuse. This solitary vice [illegible] practised by the youth [illegible] producing [illegible] the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures [illegible] countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves [illegible] uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania, and frequently [illegible] If relief be not obtained [illegible] in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. GIBBON, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who will [illegible] the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and [illegible] places, are [illegible] too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, [illegible] office keepers, etc. [illegible] will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their [illegible] in the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid [illegible] is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets. For [illegible] advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are impostors, there is no safety in trusting any of them, unless you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon [illegible] exhibiting [illegible] certificates [illegible] letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will [illegible] persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

DR. J. C. YOUNG,
Medical and Surgical
INSTITUTE.

 CONSULTATION IN ALL CASES, FREE.

 CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.

 IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in [illegible] to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge, that is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

READ! READ

I am aware that by dwelling upon so [illegible] subjects as the decay of manly vigor through the loss of the vital principle of life, the ignorant may [illegible] but the desire to point out to those [illegible] guilt and decay the true cause of their [illegible] great an incentive to be [illegible] into [illegible] tended [illegible] terrible disease of Seminal Weakness [illegible] one but the practical specialist who devotes his [illegible] treatment can tell [illegible] the most inexperienced [illegible] Weakness of the back and limbs [illegible] feelings, loss of muscular power [illegible] cold feet or hands, accompanied by hot [illegible] consumption, short breath [illegible] to society, confusion of the [illegible] nightly emissions, colorless [illegible] least excitement [illegible] regular appetite, variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the symptoms enumerated above, pause to [illegible] present is the golden moment in which your [illegible] health and happiness. You may feel [illegible] you have ever practiced the vice of self [illegible] SLIGHTEST DEGREE, you have the seeds of weakness [illegible] system, and their undermining influences will [illegible] or later dash the fair edifice of your [illegible] ground, leaving you a helpless, abject being [illegible] disease that declares itself at once [illegible] est danger; for while the patient is being treated for [illegible] affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or [illegible] tions, he sinks into a general debility that [illegible] to the list of the victims of the terrible [illegible] Weakness.

See in the bent form and languishing step [illegible] victim of the [illegible] vice! Mark the destructive complaint in the hollow cheek and [illegible]

Drowsiness is one of the premonitory [illegible] first it is easily shaken off, but it grows [illegible] great disinclination to pursue his regular [illegible] mind [illegible] apprehensive, and restless days of depression.

It is the nature of the complaint to [illegible] changes that leave the poor victim but little [illegible] In a single instant it may wither [illegible] hopes and blast your honest [illegible]

Marriage is sought by a natural impulse [illegible] This is an error of the first [illegible] unprepared for the exigencies of the [illegible] falls, and he finds himself [illegible] from which there is but the slightest hope of [illegible] Or if the marriage should result in offspring, they [illegible] distorted, decrepid and [illegible] This [illegible] to both sexes, whether married or [illegible] times of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the [illegible] complaint, or if your acts have been such as [illegible] to them, but by instant application [illegible] hope of health and happiness. The Doctor [illegible] mercury or other deleterious drugs [illegible] time always guaranteed, and full and [illegible] stored.

The afflicted are assured of every [illegible]

PERSONS AFFLICTED [illegible]

NERMAL.

During the seventeen years since the [illegible] the Institute, the number of cases of [illegible] been treated show a record unequaled by any [illegible] in the world, and the success that has [illegible] the course of treatment.

Without Mercury or other Deleterious Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of them to be not only [illegible] called for, but actually dangerous, for it is a [illegible] established medical principle that their [illegible] by entering the blood ruin the constitution and life.

The Doctor effects a cure in recent [illegible] and finds no difficulty in curing those of long [illegible] without confining the patient to such [illegible] draw upon him the slightest suspicion or [illegible] neglect his business, whether in-doors or [illegible] diet need not be changed. Cures always [illegible] no pay required.

IMPORTANT TO F[illegible]

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with [illegible] requires medical or surgical assistance, the [illegible] be. Where is there a physician competent to [illegible] relief and whose respectable standing in society will [illegible] him to the confidence of the [illegible]? The Doctor, understanding how imperatively [illegible] requirements are, feels called upon to [illegible] calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a professor of Obstetric and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all both medically and surgically, not in a superficial [illegible] but in a thorough manner, as years of study and [illegible] both in hospitals and private families [illegible] them from the hands of the unqualified [illegible] designing. Therefore families can rely upon him [illegible] a father. All in affliction can find in him one who [illegible] and sympathise with and befriend them in [illegible] whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be [illegible] consultation by letter or otherwise, free. [illegible] in all weakness and trouble incidental to the [illegible] Private apartments are provided when desired [illegible] the advantages of uncommitted attention of the Doctor and the most skillful and and faithful [illegible].

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Persons, either male or [illegible] residing in the interior, are often deterred from [illegible] the Doctor because they cannot spare the time [illegible] the expense of a visit to the city. To such [illegible] that a plain statement of the symptoms and [illegible] bearing upon the complaint, will enable him to [illegible] for them so that they can be cured at [illegible] have any false delicacy about writing [illegible] nature of their complaint, as the communication will be [illegible] by no one except the Doctor, and will be treated with the utmost confidence, and either be returned or [illegible]
